Nixon Against Tax Increases

Security 1st Problem; Religion Out

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
CHICAGO (AP) — Richard M. Nixon threw into his presidential campaign Friday a declaration against tax boosts, hedged by a firm pronouncement that national security "must and will come first."

Nixon tossed in a strictly unqualified statement on religion as an issue in a campaign in which he is prepared to play the underdog role to the hilt.

"I shall never talk about it," he said, "and I shall start right now."

At his first news conference in the role of the Republican presidential nominee, Nixon said religion will be brought into the campaign only to the extent the candidates bring it in. Thus he was saying in effect that if this issue is injected, it will be done by his Democratic rival, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Nixon is a Quaker. Kennedy is a Roman Catholic.

Standing before several massed American flags in a hotel ballroom, before several hundred newsmen, Nixon was asked what sacrifices might be required of American people, as he suggested in his speech accepting the nomination.

"I do not see at this time," Nixon replied, "any programs that would make it necessary to raise taxes."

But he went on to say that if the Soviet Union raises increased threats or world circumstances change substantially, the next president might have to ask for higher spending and higher taxes.

Again he repeated that he sees no need for such increases at the moment.

"But I want to make it clear," he said, "that national security considerations must and will come first in the next administration if I have anything to do with it."

Plans Hard Campaign

The vice president is saying over and over that he is going to put on the hardest campaign the country ever has seen, carrying it into every state.

This is the schedule immediately ahead:

An all-day conference here Saturday with party leaders of farm states. Nixon said: "In the farm belt we have suffered great erosion."

The GOP, he said, has "a fighting chance" to recapture control of the House—not the Senate—but we will have to make gains in farm states. Saturday's session will be largely for listening purposes. There will be a major farm speech later on.

Sunday he will be in Washington.

Monday there will be an all-day campaign planning session with his vice-presidential running mate, Henry Cabot Lodge, and members of their staffs. This will deal largely with schedules. As Ambassador to the United Nations, Lodge next month will go through with presenting the United States position on disarmament at the U.N. and "engage in no public political activities" during that period.

THE GOSPEL STRINGS—will present a concert Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the Beakleyville Baptist Church, just north of Eagle Valley Corner in East Stroudsburg. (Staff photo by Shafer)

Gospel Strings At Beakleyville Church

SUNDAY at 7:30 p.m., at the Beakleyville Baptist Church, the Gospel Strings will present a concert of sacred music. The public is invited to attend.

The Gospel Strings are a well known string trio from Philadelphia, who have played on radio and television, as well as giving concerts for churches and youth groups.

This week they are appearing at the Pinebrook Conference Grounds.

Leader of the trio is Herbert Balian, who plays first violin. Second violin is played by Bill Duval. Cello is played by Fred Witt.

Musical arranger and accompanist is Mrs. Jean Balian, wife of Herbert Balian. The trio, accompanied by Mrs. Balian will be giving an hour long concert of religious music this Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

The Beakleyville Church is located on Routes 190 and 196 about one-half mile north of the Eagle Valley Corners.

This concert is open to the public and there will be no admission charge, however, a free will offering will be received.

Rev. Forrest Spriggs, pastor of the Beakleyville Baptist Church has announced that the regular worship service of the

Rev. Lincoln
Guest Speaker
At Fellowship

REV. WILLIAM Lincoln will be the guest speaker at the Bible Church Fellowship, Franklin Hill, East Stroudsburg, Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Lincoln is Dean of Northeastern Bible Institute, Essex Falls, N.J. He holds B.A., Th.B. and B.D. degrees from Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary and also attended the University of Pennsylvania, the Biblical Seminary, New York City, and Montclair State Teacher's College, New Jersey.

An assistant pastor for four years, he served the Englewood Baptist Temple, Englewood, New Jersey, as pastor for eight years before joining the staff at Northeastern.

He is a past trustee of the Conservative Baptist Theological Seminary, Denver, Colorado, as well as their home mission society. He is currently a board member of the Evangelical Union of South America and serving on the executive committee of Child Evangelism Fellowship of Essex County, New Jersey.

Reverend Lincoln lives in Vernon, New Jersey, and has three children, Gail and Robert, who attend the Lanning Avenue School in that town, and Deborah who is at home. Reverend Lincoln's wife is the former Miss Laura Luddenburgh of Philadelphia.

"The Churches' Opportunity" and

Christian Science Service

AN answer to the problems of strife, jealousy, and hate will be set forth Sunday at all Christian Science churches when the subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Love."

Highlighting the Lesson-Sermon are several inspiring experiences of David which includes Samuel's account of the sparing of Saul's life (I Sam. 26).

Citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" of which Mary Baker Eddy is the author, include this statement on the protective power of divine Love: "At all times and under all circumstances, overcome evil with good. Know thyself, and God will supply the wisdom and the occasion for a victory over evil. Clad in the panoply of Love, human hatred cannot reach you. The cement of a higher humanity will unite all interests in the one divinity" (571:15).

The Golden Text is from Romans (13:10): "Love worketh no ill to his neighbour: therefore love is the fulfilling of the law."

All are welcome to attend the services at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Stroudsburg, corner of Monroe and Eighth Streets, Sunday at 11 a.m.

Rev. Ruloff Returns To Pulpit Sunday

REV. CHARLES H. Ruloff will occupy the pulpit in St. John's Lutheran Church tomorrow morning, the Seventh Sunday after Trinity, at both the 8:30 and 11 a.m. services. Church School and Bible Classes will meet at 9:45 a.m.

Flowers will be placed by Mrs. Mary Witte in memory of her husband.

Steven Mikels will be the Acolyte at the early service and Charles Rinker will serve at the later service.

At 8:30 Charles Widmer, Deward Shook, Arthur Kitzman and Rudolph Auer will serve as ushers while Edwin Fisher, John Kitchen, Donald Cramer and John Kornher will usher at the 11 a.m. service.

He is a past trustee of the Conservative Baptist Theological Seminary, Denver, Colorado, as well as their home mission society. When you are eight years old, it is not difficult to transform yourself suddenly into an Indian scout and to see a procession of chiefs, with their brightly colored feathered headdresses, galloping across the horizon astride magnificent stallions.

Children are fired with imagination, just as they are filled with faith. The faith of a child is something so simple and so beautiful that many an adult, viewing it, finds himself crying a little, deep down inside, for his own lost childhood and the touching innocence that was once his.

Yet before God, all men are children, His children, and Faith is there to be accepted, if men will but take it as a gift. The Church has the answer, showing you how to live like a man, while still possessing the heart of a child . . . helping you to get the very most out of life. If you haven't been to church lately . . . why not go this Sunday?

Groping For Growth

It is doubtful whether political demands for government-induced economic growth will add much light. Everyone wants it, there is argument on how to achieve it. And Russia's growth is cited to frighten us.

McKay-Shields Associates have produced some figures that show how hard it is to come to grips with the subject.

For example, from 1954 through 1959, the Russians increased their telephones by 25 per cent per year. This is part of the Russian economic growth we hear about. Now, if America increased her telephones by the same percentage, we'd soon have no place to install them, because we have more than half the world's phones already.

Even with the tremendous Soviet increase, there are now fewer than two phones per 100 comrades, while we have 41 per 100 Americans.

The Russians made even more spectacular percentage gains in automobiles. They added 46 per cent per year for five years. Yet, there is still only half an automobile per 100 persons, while we have 34 per 100.

Opinions Of Other Editors

Politics And Civil Rights

Both of the great political parties of the United States now have adopted a strong civil rights program in their platforms.

Each party has done so over the objection of the South. That will mean a certain loss of Dixie votes for the Republicans and very likely be costly, too, for the Democrats should a "state's rights" party again appear as happened in 1948.

Each party, also, has done so with the support of its Northern wing, and this will mean a certain gain of votes.

Thus, the adoption of principles underwriting the advance of Negroes and other minorities toward full equality as Americans is tied to political considerations. But how could it be otherwise?

If politics is the art of government, and the platform outlines the aims and philosophies of a party hoping to produce the next President, every grain in the plank inevitably must be "political."

The overriding quality of the two planks on civil rights is that what happens to be politically astute, also happens to be morally right.

If this nation were predicated on the innate superiority of one group over another there would be no cause for talk of civil rights. But America is rooted in the precept that "all men are created equal." The words, "liberty and justice for all," remain pious mottlings unless matched by a striving to make them reality.

To this need, the platforms upon which Vice President Nixon and Senator Kennedy stand, pay eloquent acknowledgment. Of course, the promise will be judged against performance. Of course, the mere declaration of intent will not exercise discrimination and prejudice overnight.

But the documents reflect a commitment of leadership in keeping with ideals that have inspired the best in the American genius since the birth of the nation.

Beyond our own frontiers, the bipartisan pledges to further justice and equality for all races and creeds cannot fail to enhance America's posture throughout the world. —Harrisburg Patriot

George Sokolsky Says . . .

What Makes The Man?

To those who do not altogether understand our system of self-government — and that includes many Americans — the question must arise as to how a man emerges to the front line where it is possible for him to be a candidate for the next President, every grain in the plank inevitably must be "political."

The overriding quality of the two planks on civil rights is that what happens to be politically astute, also happens to be morally right.

Smith and was a characteristic New York politician.

Herbert Hoover was an engineer who became an international leader of the distressed; he then became Food Administrator of the United States under a Democratic President, Woodrow Wilson; he was appointed Secretary of Commerce by a Republican President, Warren Harding; he served in the same position under President Coolidge; he was elected President of the United States.

He had never engaged in partisan politics; lived a good part of his life outside of the United States. He was a native of Iowa; spent his boyhood in Oregon. His parents were poor; died in his childhood. He is a Quaker.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, on the contrary, engaged in party politics from his early manhood. He came of a distinguished family, distantly related to President Theodore Roosevelt, the labor leader, advocated Harry Truman, Roosevelt chose him.

Truman became President on Roosevelt's death and although it is too early to judge his Administration historically, there is much to his credit.

Dwight D. Eisenhower is a West Point graduate. He served for some years as military secretary to General Douglas MacArthur. He was appointed to the highest command in World War II. He was Chief of Staff for a time; president of Columbia University; the organizer of NATO.

He had never engaged in politics and had never been a political partisan. He ran for President on the Republican ticket in 1952, was elected and is now serving his second term. His parents in Kansas were not well off. They belonged to a Mennonite sect. He is a Presbyterian.

It is obvious from these thumb-nail sketches that in the United States there is no pattern, no previous training, no advancement in office. In effect, a man presents himself or his friends project him.

A public image is created.

John Kennedy has spent four years projecting himself for the Presidency. Richard Nixon has been regarded as Eisenhower's heir for a similar period, although he was opposed by inmates of the President.

Governor Rockefeller spent two years trying to become President. In each case, the man presented himself.

Stan Tchorn and Joe Whalen, report that the State Softball Tournaments scheduled for Stroudsburg in two weeks will be a financial success.

The tournament which is under the sponsorship of the Varsity "S" Club already has taken in enough money to cover the heavy expenses of the three-day event.

Approximately 12 teams will vie for Keystone laurels and the crown now worn by Twin City TV, the Stroudsburg aggregation which vaulted to national honors a year ago.

Staying with sports a big horde of area folks will take in the Art Wall and Arnold Palmer golf match at Bethlehem Municipal Course this Sunday.

It should be a corker as both men are on their best game again.

Kenny Gardner, the cabie, has just returned from a 10-day sojourn in Canada.

He decided to become President immediately upon his election as Governor of New York State in 1928 and appointed James A. Farley to organize for this task. He was elected President in 1932 and has the distinction of being the only President to have been elected four times.

Harry Truman became President by the accident of President Roosevelt's death. He had no preparation for the post of President. He had been a local politician in Missouri. Truman was elected United States Senator from Missouri in 1934.

It was necessary for Roosevelt to rid himself of Henry Wallace who had become a political liability. Sidney Hillman, the labor leader, advocated Harry Truman, Roosevelt chose him.

Truman became President on Roosevelt's death and although it is too early to judge his Administration historically, there is much to his credit.

Dwight D. Eisenhower is a West Point graduate. He served for some years as military secretary to General Douglas MacArthur. He was appointed to the highest command in World War II. He was Chief of Staff for a time; president of Columbia University; the organizer of NATO.

Try and Stop Me

—by Bennett Cerf

Somerset Maugham quit writing for the theatre many years ago, despite the fact that many of his plays had been big hits, and confined himself to turning out novels and essays. Asked why he had become disillusioned with the stage, Maugham stated bluntly that a few drama critics wielded entirely too much power to suit him. With a few crushing paragraphs, those critics could make a $400,000 theatrical investment worthless overnight.

"I am too difficult," admitted Maugham, "to please both the scullery maid sitting in the top balcony and the critic for the London Times at the same time. I believe I can write for either one — but please both, never; their tastes are too dissimilar."

A public image is created. John Kennedy has spent four years projecting himself for the Presidency. Richard Nixon has been regarded as Eisenhower's heir for a similar period, although he was opposed by inmates of the President.

Two kids in a progressive school were engaged in a discussion of Heaven and Hell.

"I really believe there's a devil who gets you if you sin on earth," maintained one.

"Aw, gwan," scoffed his more sophisticated sidekick. "The devil is just like Santa Claus. It turns out to be your father."

Reports From Congress

J-D Increase

By Congressional Quarterly

Washington — Political play-form planks calling for greater efforts against juvenile delinquency were heavily underscored recently by a Senate subcommittee report on increases in youth crimes.

The report was issued by the Senate Juvenile Delinquency Subcommittee after a year of study and hearings. It showed:

Juvenile crime had been increasing steadily for 10 consecutive years.

Referrals to juvenile courts for delinquency increased 175 percent during the 10 years from 1948 to 1958. "This figure is all the more staggering when we realize that the juvenile population increased by only 35 percent during that period," the subcommittee said.

The referrals in 1958 involved 600,000 children annually (many in trouble more than once) between the ages of 10 and 17. If the trend continued, over a million children would appear in court in 1965 and over 1.4 million in 1970.

Crimes ranged from traffic violations to auto theft (300,000 auto theft offenses a year, mostly by teenagers seeking joyrides) to gang wars, use of narcotics, sex offenses and violence.

More and better-trained personnel were among the most urgent needs, the subcommittee said. Of particular importance was psychological training for public school teachers so they could spot potential delinquents at the point where they were most amenable to treatment — at the very beginning of their careers as delinquents. The subcommittee said coordinated community planning, bringing in a variety of local agencies to deal with the delinquent child at all points at which he was troubled, was essential.

Major Wholesale Electric Company To Locate In S-Burg

A REAL estate transaction, which will result in the location of a major wholesale electric supply company in Stroudsburg, was completed yesterday when the building on the corner of Eighth and Phillips Streets changed hands.

Formerly owned by Monroe Plastics, the structure was sold to the Chase Wholesale Electric Company, which plans to renovate the building and move in by September 1.

Area People To Journey With Christian Caravan

NEWFOUNDLAND—A Christian friendship caravan, composed of nine persons, including William Smith, of South Sterling, will leave Idlewild Airport, New York, on Tuesday, for Puerto Rico for a ten day visit.

The nine will represent the Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Scranton District. Smith represents the Greenpoint-Newfoundland-South Sterling Youth Fellowship, a combined group of Methodists and Moravians.

The purpose of the trip is to increase human understanding between the people of North America and the people of Puerto Rico for the cause of world peace. The visit will also afford the local group the opportunity for personal observation of mission work in that area of the Caribbean.

The first five days of the visit will be spent in Camp Bishop Fred P. Corson, where the group will take part in the annual Older Youth Institute, a Christian study program involving Methodist college youth from Puerto Rico.

The remainder of the visit will be spent touring places of interest among which will be a trip to the nearby Methodist mission station on Vieques Island. On this tour, the local group will stay in the homes of Puerto Rican Methodist families and will meet leaders and members of the church there.

Arrangements for the tour have been made by Rev. Tomas Rico Soltero, district superintendent of the Methodist Provisional Annual Conference of Puerto Rico, and Willy Carreras, president of the MYF of Puerto Rico.

Raised Funds

Funds for this visit have been raised through the annual Spring Choir Festival sponsored by the Scranton District MYF and directed by Smith to Puerto Rico continued to Rev. Robert Lukens, Clerks Summit.

Last year, Jill Smith, of Newfoundland, was one of the group which went to Puerto Rico, accompanied by Rev. Robert Germond of Peckville, youth director of the Wyoming Conference. This year's adults will be Rev. and Mrs. James Wert, of Way-mar.

Two Deeds Filed At Courthouse

TWO DEEDS were filed yesterday in the office of Mrs. Jeannette F. Batory, Monroe County register and recorder: Orien J. and Nona Reish, Stroud Township, to Charles J. and Beatrice Gordon, Stroudsburg, RD 5, lot in Stroud Township; Hillard Miller, Hattie Newhard and Annie Schaefer, executors of the estate of Louis F. Miller, District of Columbia, to Glenn F. and Margaret L. Grogg, Bangor, lot in Hamilton Township.

Appreciation Letters

Individual letters of appreciation were submitted by Joseph J. Miller, camp director of the Delaware Council, to the various firms.

Touring Scouts 'David Harums'

ALEX says the Boy Scouts are trading left and right in their maneuvers to gain insignia patches from the other Boy Scout units.

Alex is Scribe of Troop 81 which is presently at Colorado Springs, Colo., where the Golden Anniversary Jamboree of Scouts from U.S. and other parts of the world are assembling for the celebration.

Here are Alex Whitlow's fourth in a series of letters to the Daily Record recording the Monroe troops activities during this event.

"Today was the big day for the rodeo. After our delicious French toast breakfast a number of the fellows went to the first showing of the rodeo held in a corral in back of the arena. There were events in bronco riding, bulldogging, calf roping, Brahma bull riding, and a square dance on horses.

"During the afternoon, a lot of us washed clothes. I even got a picture of Jim Hamlin and Tom Held washing socks. After supper we went to a region campfire where we listened to the songs of various scout troops and Pat Brady and the Sons of the Pioneers.

"I know everyone enjoyed it."

In an accompanying correspondence, Alex stated:

"The fellows are trading right and left now. Brian Albert is really lucky one. He started out with nothing and now has twenty-four patches. Jim Smith now has something valuable. He just completed his set of National Jamboree neckerchiefs.

This includes neckerchiefs from the 1935, 1937, 1950, 1953, 1957 and 1960 Jamborees.

"Bob Davies, who for some unknown reason is called 'Grubby' is going to become patrol leader of patrol for tomorrow.

"Grubby" says he's really going to work Austin Kaiser who usually makes him (Grubby) work. Last night a lot of the fellows went to see the Lennon Sisters in the big arena. Some other entertainers present included Larry Hooper and Herb Shriner. Almost everyone thought the most beautiful song was "Kisses Sweeter than Wine" except Brian Albert and Jack Kishbaugh, who were more interested in something else . . .

Her name was Janice Ledern.

Early in the afternoon the famous Naval Air Team, the Blue Angels put on an inspiring show in aero-acrobatics.

"Today was pretty exciting day for me. After last night's grand opening it was announced that all correspondents would have a chance to interview James Arness, star of 'Gunsmoke' at the public relations first.

"What do you think of Boy Scouting?" was the first question asked. He told the 100 scout group that he thought the Boy Scouts was a great organization and that he was a scout too when 13 or 14. He also observed that the Army had nothing to compare with the Jamboree's great organization."

"It was the greatest experience of my life," she said at Good Samaritan Hospital, where she gave birth to a 6-pound, 13-ounce son named after her husband, Stuart Warren Cramer III.

"I read a book called 'Childbirth Without Fear' and took all the exercises and I feel just great," she said.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Terry Moore watched in a mirror the birth Wednesday of her first child.

"It was the greatest experience of my life," she said at Good Samaritan Hospital, where she gave birth to a 6-pound, 13-ounce son named after her husband, Stuart Warren Cramer III.

"I read a book called 'Childbirth Without Fear' and took all the exercises and I feel just great," she said.

JOE WHALEN, WVPO Program Director, admires two awards presented to the local radio station, at a National Safety Council Banquet in Hotel Bethlehem, Thursday night. The plaque at the top was to WVPO by the National Safety Council for exceptional service to safety in 1959. The Voice of the Poconos was one of nine state radio stations and the only one in the entire Lehigh Valley, Monroe and Northampton County section to be so honored. The other presentation was awarded to WVPO by Governor David Lawrence and Revenue Secretary Charles Dougherty for outstanding contributions to the furtherance of traffic safety in 1959-1960. Bangor S.S. Picnic Today

BANGER — The annual picnic of the First United Evangelical Sunday School at Bushkill Park, today will feature a covered dish supper. Participants are asked to bring their own table settings and whatever meat they wish for their meal, and are requested to set together in the pavilion reserved for the group. Charcoal burners will be provided for the preparation of hot dishes.

Immediately after the supper, which is scheduled for 5 p.m., games for children will be supervised by the picnic committee, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kelsier, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stenlake.

The picnic bus will leave the church on So. 2nd St. at 1 p.m., and the return trip will leave the park at 7 p.m. Chaperones will be provided to look after the children on the bus.

Dorothy Draper Honored For Work

Dorothy Draper, well-known interior decorator, was honored last night by the directors and management of Pocono Manor Inn at an informal dinner party and reception to express their appreciation to Mrs. Draper and her staff who recently completed the decorating and furnishing of Spruce Lodge, a new addition to the Manor.

Following the dinner which was held in the Valley View Room, guests were received in the Spruce Lodge Meeting Room.

The lodge, a contemporary design, was designed by Kenneth Crothers with traditional furnishings by Frederick Duckloe and Bros.

Mrs. Draper has designed interiors for resorts, hospitals, automobiles and the Convalescent Home.

MEET "MISS TEEN"

There are, in our United States, 6,000,000 families with teen-age daughters. Your own family is very probably one of them. But actually, how much do we parents know about the teen-age girl? At this moment, I probably know her better than you... for I have been fortunate enough to receive, through Jean Baer, publicity director of SEVENTEEN magazine, a very comprehensive profile of Miss Teen Tiger, compiled for that splendid publication after a vast amount of study and research.

Here are some of the facts the survey reveals: There are 9,750,000 teen-age girls in our nation. Most of these girls may be found in homes where the father is at, or near, the peak of his earnings—25% being in executive, managerial, or proprietary occupations; 14% being in professions which permit mother to take on part or full-time work. This then shows the teen-age girl coming from a home that is richer than the average American family. In a measure this may account for the fact that over 3,000,000 of our teen age girls drive cars, with 565,000 owning their own. It also accounts for the fact that 1,300,000 of America's teen girls traveled last summer, and more than 1,800,000 planned to do so this summer. Of those traveling last year, 51.8 per cent were accompanied by parents; 20.7 per cent traveled with friends, and 16.3 per cent were on tours. One out of five of the 18 to 19 year olds went overseas.

Despite all of the talk we hear about steady dating, SEVENTEEN's survey shows that 63% of the American girls under 20 are dateless on Saturday night. Those who date break down in this manner: in the 18-19 year category, 25% have dates on the major date night of the week. Of the 16-17 group, 22.7 per cent have a beau, and in the 13-15 year group 11.5 per cent have beaux. The lucky daters usually go to the movies and a pizza parlor... for a walk, drive, party-dance or bowling. Of the dateless, 15.9 per cent listen to the radio, 6.3 per cent earn money baby sitting... 11.1 per cent watch television. Only heaven, apparently, knows what the others do. The SEVENTEEN survey does not say.

The survey indicates that three quarters of our American teen-age girls have chores to do at home... 1,250,000 earn money by working in many fields from clerical to sales... one out of ten does homework. This is, apparently, just a breakdown of Saturday activity.

While Dad's income is thoroughly bound-round by the demands of modern living, our American teen-age girls have 4 1/2 billion dollars to spend... and they spend it on everything from fun, furniture and clothes to cars. Approximately 800,000 become engaged annually, which probably has something to do with the aforementioned furniture purchases. But what about clothes? America's teen-age girls are tremendously fashion conscious and spend 3.2 billion dollars each year—an average of 300.00—on their wardrobe. This is 20 per cent of the total United States' women's apparel expenditures. Their purchases weigh heavily on the side of skirts, sweaters and blouses for school. 53 per cent wear high heels for Saturday night dates; 44.4 per cent wear gloves on Sunday morning, and 42.7 per cent change clothes after school.

So there she is, Miss American Teen-Ager, more than half of whom attend church on Sunday. If you still do not recognize her, this is her physical appearance: she is 5 feet 3 and .2 inches tall, weighs 114.7 lbs., and bubbles with the energetic urge to be going places and seeing things. She is adorable, exasperating, and BIG BUSINESS! If she baffles you at close range, read about her in SEVENTEEN, her very own magazine.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day if you guess the puns designed to open your eyes. Count the letters in your first name. If the number is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 2. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the letters under the checked figures give you.

Eagles May Have Fastest Backs

THE PHILADELPHIA Eagles may have the fastest backs in the National Football League this year.

The Birds have four newcomers, who not only have speed but are big enough to stand the pro knocking. And they all can run the century well under 10 seconds. Art Brandriff, 6'1", 198-pounder, from Virginia Military Institute, checked into the Birds Hershey camp with the 1958 Southern Conference dash championship among his credentials. Bobby Gordon, from Morgan State has been clocked in 9.7 and Bob Jackson, Alabama and Dick Christy, North Carolina State, have both turned in 9.8 times.

Dean With College All-Stars

A fifth prospect, who may be as fast as any of the others, is Wichita's Ted Dean, now with the College All-Stars.

Brandriff, who seems to run almost effortlessly, had a short trial with the Detroit Lions a year ago; Gordon saw some service with the Chicago Bears, Jackson with Green Bay and Christy with the Steelers.

Rookie Dean was the Eagles fourth choice in 1960.

Still another fleet-footed ball carrier is Tim Brown, from Ball State Teachers. But at the moment Brown is doing his jogging for Uncle Sam. He is due to report to the Birds next week after his Army discharge.

As one veteran observer put it, "there's more speed here than at any time since the Eagles first encamped in Hershey 10 years ago."

Maryland May Be Collegiate Sleeper

Although it is not picked for a top 20 berth, the University of Maryland, could be the sleeper in College football this year.

Tom Nugent has had a full year to install his progressive offensive patterns and he has enough returning letter-men to make the attack move.

Ben Schwartzwalder, Syracuse University's "Coach of the Year," said at the coaches clinic here in June that "Maryland will give a lot of teams trouble this year."

Schwartzwalder asked: "Nugent if Maryland's quarterback, Richie Novak, 'had one or two more years of eligibility.'"

"Two," Nugent replied and Schwartzwalder frowned.

"I thought I might get by without having to face the boy," Schwartzwalder explained, and added "he's one of the best running-passing quarterbacks I've seen."

Syracuse blanked Maryland 27-0 last year but Novak missed the game with an ankle injury. The two schools do not meet again until 1961.

Films Don't Tell Game Story

Schwartzwalder saw films of the Maryland-Texas game, in which Maryland won everything but the game.

The Terps picked up 21 first downs, more than 500 yards in total offensive and Novak completed 18 of 29 passes. But Texas won 26-0.

"We crossed every stripe but the goal line," Nugent said, describing the loss.

Maryland proved it was ready for a big year this April. Playing against an alumni team that included 22 current professional players and 11 All-Americans, the varsity won 36-0, the worst beating ever suffered by a Maryland alumni team.

Ryan Hurls Two-Hitter In Finale

NORB Ryan tossed a two-hitter last night to lead Barrett Lions to a 3-0 win over Pocono Lake in the final game of the Pocono Mountain's Babe Ruth League.

Ryan fanned eight and walked only one and his brother and battery mate John accounted for three of the team's four hits, a double and two singles. Norb got the other hit, a run scoring single.

Hanna and Parry each had singles for the losers, who stranded seven runners.

Mr. Swisher Funeral Sunday

MRS. MABEL G. Sargent, 55.

FUNERAL services for Russell W. Swisher, 61, of Phoenix, Ariz., and formerly of East Stroudsburg, will be held Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the Dunkelberger and Westbrook Funeral Home.

Rev. William F. Wunder will officiate.

Mr. Swisher was born in Knowlton, N.J.

He operated Swisher's Distributor Co. for many years retiring from business and moving to Phoenix five years ago.

Mr. Swisher was a member of J. Simpson African Lodge 628, F. & A.M., East Stroudsburg; Samuel York Commandry and Monroe Royal Arch Chapter, both of Stroudsburg; Keystone Consistory, Scranton; El Zaribah Shrine, Phoenix and B.P.O. Elks 319, East Stroudsburg.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Harriet S. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; one son, Roy L. Swisher, Phoenix, Ariz.; four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Interment will be in the Laurelwood Cemetery, Stroudsburg.

Friends and relatives may call at the funeral home today after 7 p.m.

B.P.O. Elks will conduct services today at 8 p.m. in the funeral home.

Riedmiller Infant Dies

MARY ANN Riedmiller, infant daughter of Robert, Jr., and Elizabeth Lynch Riedmiller, 168 Ansoniak St., East Stroudsburg, died at 11:30 p.m. Thursday in Monroe County General Hospital.

In addition to her parents, she is survived by a sister, Valerie, and a brother, Robert Riedmiller, III, at home; her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Lynch, County Kerry, Ireland, and her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Riedmiller, Sr., East Stroudsburg, R.D. 1.

Private funeral services will be at 10:30 a.m. today in the Lanterman Funeral Home with burial in St. Matthew's Cemetery.

Gartner Gets Evans Scholarship

R. F. MCGUIGAN, educational director of the Evans Scholarly Foundation, has notified Roland Gartner, a graduate of East Stroudsburg Area Joint High School, that he has been appointed an Evans Scholar at Pennsylvania State University for the coming four years, providing that he maintains the standards set by the foundation.

The Western Golf Association of Illinois, a member of the foundation, is the donor of the scholarship which has been given on the basis of Roland's excellent scholastic record in high school and his standings in "schoolboy" golf competition. In the Pennsylvania District, Roland has placed in the top ranks each year. For two years, he has been the winner of the Tom Waring Award which is given to the student having the highest scholastic average among the school's varsity athletes.

He is a member of the National Honor Society, received one of the "Youth of the Month" awards given by the Exchange Club last year, and participated extensively in choral and glee club activities.

The monetary value of the scholarship is such that it will cover school fees and room rent for each year.

Roland is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Gartner, 141 East Brown Street, East Stroudsburg.

Lodge's Son Father Again

BOSTON (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge gained more than the Republican vice-presidential nomination Thursday night. His daughter-in-law, Mrs. Henry Sears Lodge, presented him with an 8-pound, 1-ounce grandson.

Five minutes before the Republican National Convention nominated the U.N. ambassador for the vice presidency, his eighth grandchild and fifth grandson was born in Richardson House, Boston lying in hospital.

Henry Sears Lodge is the youngest of the two Lodge sons. He and his wife now have three children, all boys.

George Cabot Lodge, the oldest Lodge son and assistant secretary of labor in Washington, is the father of five children, three girls and two boys.

Pact Extended

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania and the Federation of Telephone Workers yesterday night agreed to a second 24-hour extension of a one-year contract which expired midnight Wednesday.

Mrs. Mabel G. Sargent, 55

MRS. MABEL G. Sargent, 55,

FUNERAL services for Russell W. Swisher, 61, of Phoenix, Ariz., and formerly of East Stroudsburg, will be held Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the Dunkelberger and Westbrook Funeral Home.

Rev. William F. Wunder will officiate.

Mr. Swisher was born in Knowlton, N.J.

He operated Swisher's Distributor Co. for many years retiring from business and moving to Phoenix five years ago.

Mr. Swisher was a member of J. Simpson African Lodge 628, F. & A.M., East Stroudsburg; Samuel York Commandry and Monroe Royal Arch Chapter, both of Stroudsburg; Keystone Consistory, Scranton; El Zaribah Shrine, Phoenix and B.P.O. Elks 319, East Stroudsburg.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Harriet S. Evans, Phoenix, Ariz.; one son, Roy L. Swisher, Phoenix, Ariz.; four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Interment will be in the Laurelwood Cemetery, Stroudsburg.

Friends and relatives may call at the funeral home today after 7 p.m.

B.P.O. Elks will conduct services today at 8 p.m. in the funeral home.

Smithfield Justice Of Peace

JOHN HICKLIN, justice of the peace of Smithfield Township and former assistant chief of police of Stroudsburg, died around 7 p.m. last night at his home in Marshalls Creek.

Hicklin, who was 66 years old, was born in Muscatine, Iowa, and came to this area from New York City in 1927.

He is survived by his wife, Johanna, and one daughter, Mrs. Robert Riedmiller, Sr., East Stroudsburg, R.D. 1.

A veteran of U.S. Navy in World War I, he served the greater part of his lifetime in police activities. He served as a policeman at numerous resorts in New Jersey prior to coming to Stroudsburg and was chief of Civil Defense of auxiliary police of Marshalls Creek.

He was a member of St. Paul Lutheran Church, Craig Meadows, and also of the Stroudsburg Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. from the Dunkelberger and Westbrook Funeral Home, Stroudsburg.

Rev. William F. Wunder will officiate. Place of interment is uncertain as yet.

Friends and relatives may pay their respects Monday night after 7 p.m. from the Dunkelberger and Westbrook Home.

Cub Pack 89 Holds 'Jubilee'

TO CELEBRATE the Golden Jubilee year of the Boy Scouts of America, Cub Pack 89 of Barrett held their "Back Yard Jubilee" at Mountain Top Lodge last Saturday.

Assistant Cubmaster William Kintzel in the absence of Cubmaster C.W.O. Lund (who is at the Jubilee in Colorado Springs from July 22nd to 29th and then spends ten days at the Philmont Boy Scout ranch near Cimarron, New Mexico) led the Cub Scout group.

For the most part, the Soviet press has paid little attention to the Republican National Convention in Chicago. The Soviet people invariably are told there is no real difference between the two big American parties, that both are servants of millionaires and monopoles.

The Tass dispatch said New York's governor, Nelson A. Rockefeller, was responsible for some of the Republican platform and that his recent agreement with Vice President Nixon gave "a really aggressive nature" to foreign policy and military planks of the platform.

Krummell loaned his land to the group.

Food was cooked by the Cubs over a huge fireplace and plenty of games were played. After the second hike of the day the Cubs agreed that a horizontal position was fine and proceeded to play several quiet (not so very) games.

Sherry Coffman, award chairman, presented Jubilee patches to Cubs and leaders and each person present received a special "Cub Pack 89" Jubilee scarf, made by the den mothers.

The patch will be worn on the right pocket of the Cub and leaders shirt and is a very important badge as the next one will be issued in 2010—Scouting's 100th Anniversary.

Literature Rally For Adventists

Ross Common Play Reported Laudable

By J. P. Savitt

LITERATURE Evangelists of East Pennsylvania began a three day rally at the local Adventist school here Friday.

The group which is expected to reach 75 in number today will be the guests of the congregation and will be housed in the homes of church members for the weekend.

Elder Arthur Klesz, president of the East Pennsylvania Conference of Adventists, will speak to the entire assembly today at the worship hour. This will be his first appearance in Stroudsburg since becoming the spiritual for the 82 churches in the conference.

Jim Dwyer, a Silva, a hoody-looking friend of Garth, as Joe, fits in nicely as a character of that sort, but doesn't seem to be able to handle heavy roles as well as he does comedies-tension is evident.

The mother, Madeleine de Leu Petet, was excellent — a true portrait of the benevolent mother who gives everything to her appreciative son—even to making him beneficiary on a three-hundred dollar insurance policy which causes much anxiety in his aesthetic soul. After a twenty minute pause, "Suddenly Last Summer," opens with a set constructed to resemble a prosperous florist's shop.

Flora is everywhere, and the rococo garden chairs and floral viney-trap add to an interesting set. Jean Evans who plays a neurotic mother with too much love for her son handles herself well throughout. Dick Turlam, as Dr. Cukrowicz, a Polish neuropsychiatrist who administers pre-frontal lobotomy operations is polished in the role.

This play, which is a shocker, involves a mother who is in love with the image of her son who is dead and was once her substitute for her dead husband in platonic love.

His girlfriend, Holly, is near forced out of her mind in trying to tell the truth to the mother and her own relations, who are interested only in preserving a good image of Sebastian, and in the case of the latter, for the sake of not allowing the will of Sebastian, which gives Holly and her mother and brother a fortune, in the position of being contested.

This play, a highly psychological probe into reality, as well as an insight of Darwinian logic, that is, "survival of the fittest" is as complex on the surface as it is underneath. It is, therefore, very close to the unreality of reality. As much in complexity as life itself, and very near to it.

Jim Dwyer, as Silva, a hoody-looking friend of Garth, as Joe, fits in nicely as a character of that sort, but doesn't seem to be able to handle heavy roles as well as he does comedies-tension is evident.

This will be an opportunity for everyone who is interested in "living art" to come and enjoy art at its best, in natural surroundings and to meet the artists, who will be glad to discuss their work with those who are interested.

The Group will hold their next painting session at the home of the Fitzgerald's on August 2.

Dear Abby

Another Groaner

Dear Abby: I love to sing for the fun of it and everyone says I have a terrific voice and sound just like Bing Crosby. I have come up against a problem. Mother's relatives say if Dad walks me down the aisle, some people say if I have my tonsils and adenoids taken out, I will sound even more like Bing Crosby, but I am afraid to take the chance. Can you find out for me if Bing Crosby ever had his tonsils and adenoids taken out?

Yours truly,
SINGS LIKE BING

Dear Sings: I have it straight from the crooner himself that he indeed has "still got 'em." So leave your tonsils and adenoids intact and "ba ba booo" to your heart's content — unless your doctor suggests otherwise.

Dear Abby: My parents were divorced when I was nine. Neither has remarried. My father supported us well. Mother never had to work and he put me through college.

I am being married soon. My
